VOLUME 53 — EAST JORDAN, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1949 — NUMBER 2

Harbor Edges East Jordan

IN A THRILLING GAME THERE LAST FRIDAY

In a thrill-packed game Friday night Harbor Springs, fresh from a 44-32 drubbing of Petoskey, barely edged out a one-point victory over the Red Devils in two overtime periods.

The game started out slowly, but gained momentum as play reached a feverish pitch in the last quarter. East Jordan's shooting was off in the first quarter as time after time the boys would work the ball in only to have it roll around the rim and pop out. This poor shooting by Jordan and "hot" shooting by Harbor put Harbor well out in front in the first quarter. E. J. came back strong to go ahead at the half. The "Rams" regained the lead mid-way through the second half and held it until the last minute of play when the Red Devils came from six points behind to tie the game 39-39. Sommerville scored two free throws in the first overtime and Ayers hit a field goal for Harbor. In the final overtime Ayers sank a long one-handed shot to end the game.

Meredith led the E. J. scoring while Ayers led Harbor. Bryon Boring and Tuck Thompson put the drive and spirit into the team in the last half. Fred Holland, who was greatly below par because of illness, turned in a good rebound game. Fred, at this writing, is still out of school and will probably miss the game at Pellston, Friday.

East Jordan entertains Charlevoix, Jan. 21, in the next home game.

"By Land We Live"

"By Land We Live", full color film two years in the making which vigorourly demonstrates the misuse of the state's soil is now available for loan to groups and organizations.

A joint production of Michigan State College, Michigan soil conservation committee and the conservation department, the original sound 16 mm. print was completed in Oct. Sufficient copies have now been obtained to make wide distribution possible.

"By Land We Live" unfolds a telling story of the mistreatment of Michigan soil and at the same time offers a constructive program for rebuilding and preserving soil.

Loan requests should be sent to the conservation department at Lansing. Express charges are the only cost to the borrower.

East Jordan To Have Community And School Nurse

East Jordan has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Wilbur Robertson, better known as "Betty", to serve our community as a full time community and school nurse.

Mrs. Robertson received her nurse's thaining at Butterworth Hospital, Grand Rapids and graduated as a registered nurse in 1932. Since that time, she has worked as a nurse in Butterworth Hospital; Smith Memorial Hospital, Alma; Mt. Pleasant Community Hospital, Mt. Pleasant; and Charlevoix County Hospital, Charlevoix. This background of experience helped to equip Mrs. Robertson for work she has done in East Jordan while employed as Dr. VanDellen's nurse since 1942. Her thoughtfulness, kindness, superior ability, and sincere concern for the good of East Jordan and the people living therein have won the confidence of many people.

Mrs. Robertson will work through the school where her office will be located. She will start her new position Feb. 1st of this year.

The hiring of a community and school nurse has been brought about by the good will and interest of people in East Jordan. Everyone who has contributed to the Community Chest fund can feel that he has had a part in this project. The school, too, is helping as is the County Health Unit at Charlevoix under whose supervision she will work.

At the regular monthly meeting of the East Jordan Community Chest Board of Directors, the appointment of Mrs. Wilbur Robertson as Community nurse was approved.

Mr. Daniel J. Devine, local high school athletic director, has also been appointed by the Board as a summer recreational director of East Jordan. Plans are already underway regarding this program.

We feel that our having secured the services of these two persons will prove very beneficial to everyone within the community. These two projects, other than the donation to the American Legion Auxiliary to help with the Christmas baskets, will constitute the major spending of East Jordan Community Chest fund this year. This money, you will recall, was collected last fall at the time of all Red Feather Community Chest Drives for use within our own community for our own local needs.

Duo-Pianist Team On Community Concert Course, Petoskey, Jan. 17

The next outstanding concert on the Community Concert Course Series is the duo-piana team, Vronsky and Babin. Monday evening, Jan. 17, is the date. Vronsky and Babin are Russian-born American citizens, consedered the best in their field.

A C. C. member was out west for the last concert by Mr. Primrose and regretted to an acquaintance not being home to attend the performance. The latter couldn't believe we were hearing Wm. Primrose in northern Michigan, for, he said, "Don't you know, Mr. Primrose is the finest violist in the world?"

We have another great musical treat coming next Monday.

Bowling

Along with all the high scoring for the evening was the sensational bowling of the Canners led by Burl Braman, who had 603. Greg Boswell was high for the losers with 559.

Most of the ones's Sunday motor trip had been marred by a violent quarrel. On their homeward journey they passed a pasture field just as a donkey brayed long and loud.

"Is that a relative of yours?" he asked spitefully.

"Only by marriage, dear," she replied sweetly.

One Girl to Another: "Of course I had to tell her she looked like a million—and I meant every year of it!"

March of Dimes Starts This Friday

NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS ANNUAL DRIVE FOR FUNDS

This Friday, Jan. 14, marks the opening of an 18-day parade in the U. S.—the 1949 March of Dimes of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. In that little more than two-week period the American people will have an opportunity to contribute toward this cause which in the past six years has stricken more than 100,000 of our citizens. Up to Dec. 14 there were 743 reported cases in Michigan.

One of the main facts to remember about polio is that it is not a primarily fatal disease. And another fact is that 50% of those infected by polio recover completly. Yet, today there remains a drab overtone of darkness in the infantile paralysis picture. When polio strikes with paralytic force, often many lengthy yrs. of hospitalization and treatment comprise the calendar of the disabled. Aside from the victim's pain and suffering, there is also the cold factual problem of doctor and hospital bills. Not one family in ten can afford to pay for full or even partial care of a case requiring more than a nomial hospital stay.

That is where your March of Dimes steps in to lighten the dark outlook. Besides financing research seeking the final answer of how to prevent and cure polio, March of Dimes funds are paying for best available medical care and treatment of polio patients throughout the nation — whether or not they were stricken in the 1948 epidemic or in years gone by.

Yes, not one family in ten can afford to pay when polio strikes. But every family can contribute to the March of Dimes. By so doing they help guarantee prompt and adequate aid to themselves and their neighbors should the disease attack them.

There is no age limit as records show that the youngest victim was 2 months old the the oldest 49 yrs. old during the 1948 epidemic of infantile paralysis. Charlevoix County had only one mild case that was reported but surrounding counties experienced an alarming epidemic. The Munson Hospital at Traverse City cared for patients last year from 14 counties in this area. This hospital is being well equipped to handle these cases and already has much of the necessary equipment. At the peak of the epidemic when Munson hospital was caring for polio patients, another therapist was needed to help with the treatments. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in New York was called, at once they located one and brought her by plane from San Francisco. At the same time the Foundation rushed another Iron lung, water pack machine and other equipmebnt that might be necessary. Because the National Foundation is so well organized these benefits were available at once when needed to help save the polio patients at Munson hospital. No home is safe and no child is safe from this dread disease!

Remember the 1949 March of Dimes, Jan. 14 to 31. In business places throughout Charlevoix County you will find canisters for your contributions, or donations can be left at any of the banks. Every time you give a dime or dollar you lend a mighty, helping hand.

This money is much appreciated as it is needed for our book budget. With higher prices it is difficult to keep up with the demand for books.

Gifts: Mrs. Wirt Bates — 2 adventure books. Earl Clark — 1 mystery Pocket Book.

Our only new book for this week is "The Doll's House" by Rumer Godden. This J book is illustrated by Dana Saintsbury, which adds greatly to the interest of the story.

Story Hours: Wednesday and Saturday from 10:30 to 11:30. The Saturday Story Hour boys and girls enjoyed listening to the Cinderella record which Linda Bustard brought to play for us.

We listened to many stories and played some games. Next week we plan to make some snow men for our curtains and bulletin board.

On Wednesday we listened to stories about our Christmas fun. Bunny Burull brought a candy treat.

Barbershoppers at Boyne City Gym

TRAVELERS AND CAREY-SWEENEY VODVIL ACT FEATURE ENTERTAINMENT IN SONG BATTLE

It's barber shop singing time again and quartets from throughout the state will gather at the Boyne City high school gymnasium to compete in the third annual Bush League contest, Saturday night, Jan. 15.

Eleven quartets have entered the competition which is limited to chapters of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America that have less than 50 members. The contest will feature the performances of Carey & Sweeney who made five curtain calls when they provided the old-time vaudeville acts at last year's show. The Travelers, a Grand Rapids quartet, will appear for the feature numbers but will not compete in the contest due to their previous competition in state and international contests of the society.

The Boyne City chapter of SPEBSQSA is rounding out a busy week of getting everything ready in preparation for the show which has attarcted so much attention within the barber shop singing fraternity because it gives the smaller communities a chance to compete on an equal basis.

Quartets which will compete in the show are: The Pitch Pipers, Grand Rapids; Salt City Four, Manistee; Remnants, Charlevoix; Pleasant-Aires, Mt. Pleasant; Gay-Lords, Gaylord; Boyne Knights, Boyne City; Cherry Cobblers, Traverse City; Bay-Tones, Traverse City; and the Mountain-Aires, Boyne City.

Antrim County Farm Bureau Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Antrim County Farm Bureau was held in Elsworth Community Hall on Jan. 5, 1949. Mr. Muelman offered the prayer to open the meeting. The morning was given over to various reports from the officers and committeemen. Allen Aarema, and Mrs. Milford Tyrrell gave reports on the State Convention which they attended as delegates in Nov. At the last district meeting it was announced that plans for the Northern Michigan College were beginning to materialize. Wren Chellis, who attended this district meeting, reported on this fact. The new 4-H club leader, Mr. Ostrander, was introduced to the gathering by Walter Kirkpatrick.

After a pot luck dinner, Mr. Wenner, Extension leader, spoke on Cooperation. He emphasized the fact that we can accomplish more by all organizations working together for the good of our neighbors as well as ourselves, than by each pulling a different way. New leaders should be developed among the young people through 4-H and Junior Farm Bureau to take the place of the older people when they resign. We should help within the structure of our community and not stand off and critisize what our officers are trying to do. Things like Hospitalization and better fertilizer and petroleum distribution can only be accomplished through organization, not alone.

The new directors for 1949 were elected to the board by the unanimous vote of the meeting. Mr. Milton Larsen, district representative, brought out facts about the various accomplishments of Farm Bureau in Michigan. Michigan has the largest enrollment in Blue Cross Hospitalization through Farm Bureau in the United States. He maintains that a good meeting should have three parts: a business meeting lasting 20 min., educational discussion, 1 hour, and recreational part, 20 min.

Walter Kirkpatrick closed the meeting with a showing of some of his European films, including some about France, Belgium and Germany. A running commentary, while the film was being shown, enabled us to understand more clearly conditions across the ocean. We were glad to have the opportunity to see for ourselves the conditions under which the European farmer lives and works, and to hear some of his problems.

WITH THE ANTRIM COUNTY AGR'L AGENT

W. Kirkpatrick, Extension Agent

TO HONOR FARM FAMILIES

The Antrim County U. S. D. A. Council at a recent meeting voted to cooperate with the Antrim County FHA Committee in honoring Farmers Home Administration farm families who had made progress in repaying their loans, improving their farms, and participating in community affairs. The Council consists of the County Agr'l Agent, Walter G. Kirkpatrick; the Chairman of the County AAA committee, Hoy Dewey; a representative of the Rural Electric Cooperative, Herb Ruggles of Central Lake; Soil Conservation District, Virgil Thayer of Bellaire and the Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, John Young.

The Council and Farmers Home Administration will hold a series of farm family meetings this winter, honoring three or four ourstanding families. The Council is preparing a score sheet to assist the committee in selecting the families to be honored.

Farmers Home Administration makes loans to family-size farm owners or operators to enable them to improve their farm equipment, livestock or real estate. Loans are made from funds advanced by private sources as well as from Congressional appropriations. According to a statement by Mr. John C. Young, FHA supervisor for Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego Counties, farmers in Antrim County have received loans totaling more than $534,000. This has been used to improve farm buildings, to buy and improve additional land, as well as to purchase livestock and tools.

Young states that the repayment record on these loans is excellent, in spite of the fact that in the early days of the program, some loans were made mainly to get men off welfare rolls. In recent years loans are made only to bonafide farmers who have a reasonable chance to succeed with a reasonable amount of supervision.

Slightly over 10% of all the farmers in Antrim County now have loans outstanding. More than 25% of all farmers in the County have had Farmers Home Administration loans sometime in the last 15 years. Mr. Young attributes the repayment record of farmers to families' hard work, careful planning, family record keeping, and the supervision of FHA.

His Growing Years

Lesson for January 16, 1949

DOUBTLESS God can do anything he wants to do. He could have sent Jesus to earth on a moonbeam; he could have had him for the first 30 years of his life on a lonely peak in the Andes, far from any human dwelling; he could have sent him into the world full-grown, without ever having to go through the grind of growing and learning as the rest of us do.

Dr. Foreman

But God did not plan it that way. If the manhood of Jesus was to be real, and not a hothouse facsimile, he had to come up the hard way. Angels do not grow, they just are; but human beings grow. The great difference between Jesus and ordinary mortals is not that they grow and he did not; the difference is that he grew straight.

No 'Good Chance'

THE world around us makes its impression on us; it makes no impression on dolls. They go on smiling their built-in, painted-on smiles, but we have to learn through tears. And so did Jesus. The heavenly Father saw to it that his experiences were not always easy one. He was born in a stable, of parents who were very poor, living the first few years of his life as a displaced person in a foreign country, with a price on his baby head.

He grew up in a village "off the main line," among companions not one of whom ever became famous, working through long years at a simple and not too well-paid trade. During Jesus' first 30 years his neighbors never guessed that the most extraordinary person of history was living in their village.

We sometimes wish that we had an easier time of it, and that God had seen fit to cast our lot in some big city with a rich family, instead of where we are. We feel we could be better people if we "had a chance." Yet every reader of these lines has a far better chance than Jesus. It did not take perfect surroundings to shape a perfect life.

• • •

Holy Family

WE CALL Joseph and Mary and the rest the "Holy Family," but they were not known that way in Nazareth. They were just Joseph the carpenter, and his Mary. Then there were the boys and girls; Mark (6:3) tells the boys' names, but no one ever remembered to put down the sisters' names. Even then it was no small family. Jesus, as the oldest of seven, would have many responsibilities. After Joseph's death he would be the chief breadwinner. Seeing that the rent was paid, that there was grain in the house for Mary to grind into meal, finding money for clothes for seven growing children—this could not have been easy for Jesus the young carpenter.

They were not an easy family to live with, those boys and girls. When Jesus later began his work of teaching and healing, we hear that even his brothers did not believe in him. But in spite of the brothers, there was always Mary. Mother-like, she loved her first-born as no other could or did.

There are some who worship her as "Queen of Heaven;" but it is enough for us to remember that she was queen of the home where Jesus the child grew to be Jesus the man. Not this side of heaven can we know how much we owe, as Christians, to this one woman, whose mind and spirit were woven into the thought and spirit of her Son.

• • •

Home Memories

INDEED, Jesus' whole boyhood was woven into his manhood. Among life's most precious memories are those of our growing years. Later on, we can see how Jesus' mind was bright with memories of home. The parables of the patched garment, of the leaven hidden in the meal, of the poor woman hunting with a lamp for her one lost coin, of the hungry neighbor at midnight, of the son who said "I go" but did not go—these and many others may well be echoes of Jesus' boyhood home. Dear as these are Jesus' habits of prayer, his fondness for calling God "Father," his familiarity with Scripture even in death's agony—here surely are patterns learned in childhood's growing years.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Asserts Red Aims Split As Some Leaders Desire Accord; Dutch Firm on Indonesian Stand

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

COLD WAR:
Someone Tiring

If Harry S. Truman were right, then possibility of war with Russia was less than many Americans imagined. In a "surprise" statement during an unheralded appearance at a luncheon in Kansas City, President Truman declared bluntly that "certain leaders" in Russia "are exceedingly anxious to reach an agreement with the United States to end the cold war."

THEN THE PRESIDENT lashed out with an accusation that the Soviets have violated "sacred" agreements and said their government "has a system of morals that are not moral."

Deliberately or not, President Truman was baring some closeted secrets when he said during that speech that the Russians had not kept important agreements made at Yalta and Potsdam. By that statement, the President was conceding charges of long duration that certain commitments were made at these two parleys with the Russians which were not generally known, and results of which led to accusations that American diplomacy had failed miserably in negotiations with Russia's Josef Stalin.

The President's position was far from an earlier expansive statement that Stalin was a "nice old fellow."

He did not identify the Red leaders who prefer an "understanding" —as he put it—with the United States, but he asserted that there are Soviet top men who have no desire for war. Neither did the President say whether any overtures had been made by such Russian leaders.

The President said frankly: "I made certain specific agreements at Potsdam, none of which have been kept. Certain agreements were made at Yalta, none of which have been kept."

He reiterated that "all the United States wants is peace."

INDONESIA:
Dutch Stubborn

Stubbornness is a characteristic trait of the Dutch—and Holland was running true to form. Despite announcement by the United States, from which she is receiving Marshall plan aid, that the invasion of Indonesia must stop, the Dutch said, in effect, they'd think the order over.

THE UNITED NATIONS was concerned, but a Russian step to the fore in demanding a cease-fire order and troop withdrawal in 24 hours did the Indonesians no good. This time, the U. S. abstained from voting and the Russian proposal lost.

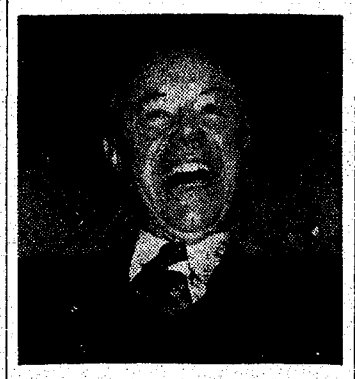

However, the American position was difficult of understanding, and the statement of American delegate Philip Jessup did little to clarify it.

"I decline to be put in a false position by other delegations," he said. "The record of the United States on Indonesia is before the world."

BUT ALSO BEFORE the world was the issue of American prestige and the integrity of the Marshall plan. America stood for help for Indonesia; America controlled the powerful weapon of economic aid to the Dutch. Yet, America, as yet, had delivered no ultimatum to the nation whose foray into Indonesia was being helped by American dollars. And the American delegate had declined to vote for a cease-fire order in the Indonesian fighting — joining Great Britain in the vote declination.

Whatever else was true, and regardless of motives, the assertion of the Soviet Ukranian delegate appeared to be true. He charged: "Without United States financial help, the Netherlands would have been unable to wage war in Indonesia."

Taft Laughed

Usually pontifically serious, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was in an expansive mood as he chatted with newsmen on his return to Washington following a tour of Europe. He praised the operation of the economic cooperation administration (Marshall plan).

FOR CHINA:
Watch and Wait

U. S. policy on China, for the time being at least, appeared to be one of watching and waiting, coupled with a resounding diplomatic silence.

America had two good considerations upon which to base that policy:

1. THE UNITED STATES stood convinced that nothing other than direct intervention in the military situation in China would change the course of events, and that the government is not prepared to intervene to that extent.

2. There is, in the United States, an inaccurate assumption that American economic aid is a foolproof solution to the difficulties of other countries; that this aid, if put into a given country as raw materials are put into a machine, would suddenly be processed into an effective, finished product. Life was not precisely like that—especially in China.

To all of which might be added these two additional factors:

1. The United States was caught in this dilemma: If it issues a statement supporting the Nationalists, as Mme. Chiang Kai-shek urged, it might merely associate itself with the collapse of the present Chinese regime without preventing that collapse.

2. On the other hand, if it explains why it is not granting further aid to Chiang, and publishes what has happened to previous aid, it might hasten Chiang's collapse.

Hence, the attitude of watchful waiting.

MARSHALL:
How Long?

The question of who would be President Truman's secretary of state was concerning official Washington and the diplomatic centers of the world.

Ailing Gen. George C. Marshall was ordered to rest, observe strict dietary instructions. Evidence was largely at hand that the President was reluctant to trust the touchy problems of international policy in less experienced hands, yet the chief problem persisted: Could Marshall carry on effectively despite his serious ailment—loss of a kidney through operation?

THE PRESIDENT appeared committed to a policy of letting Marshall stay on, or, rather, keeping Marshall on the job despite any desire of the latter to give up his post.

A close associate of the President was quoted as saying the chief executive was willing to wait until Marshall recovered sufficiently to do a full-time job, even if that should require months. Robert A. Lovett, said not to "gee" as well with the President as Marshall did, would continue to act for Marshall while the latter rested.

SOME OF THE President's friends declared that if he should finally decide that Marshall can't carry the load, he probably would like to have Chief Justice Fred Vinson take over.

To do so would mean a great personal sacrifice for the Kentuckian, for his position on the court is permanent, while an administration change might leave him out in the cold—and Vinson is no young man, either.

PROBERS:
Want More Law

Probers looking officially into the activity of foreign espionage agents in the United States were becoming irked. Too many witnesses had fallen back on the constitutional guarantee of immunity to questioning by claiming the possibility of self-incrimination.

The probe group would put an end to that — they would provide stiffer penalties for contempt of such groups.

REPRESENTATIVE MUNDT, of South Dakota, and Nixon, of California, Republicans, authors of the proposal, did not specify just how much stiffer they would make the penalty for persons convicted of contempt of congress. They did comment that "offenders should be severely and appropriately punished."

Existing law provides a maximum penalty of one year's imprisonment and a $1,000 fine.

Among "reforms" suggested for probe group procedure was protection of the right of all witnesses to counsel in both closed and open sessions; right of the accused to testify in open session; right of the accused to submit questions.

The new congress was to be given the proposals.

MEDICINE:
U. S. on Pan

Plans for socialized medicine received a rough setback when the Hoover committee reported it had found "waste and extravagance" in the present federal setup, which it described as without "any central plan."

FINDINGS of the committee—a "task force" of the Hoover commission on organization of the executive branch of the government —were sure to be hailed with delight by members of the American Medical association battling against enactment by congress of a program of socialized medicine.

The investigating group, however, made it plain in its report that compulsory health insurance was outside the scope of its inquiry.

But, even so, its declaration that governmental medical agencies and its program were inadequate and inefficient was certain to be construed as whistling over two strikes on the compulsory health insurance adherents.

THE FACT-FINDING group recommended a sweeping reorganization of federal medical services, and urged channeling of federal subsidies to the upbuilding of medical schools and community and private hospitals, with a minimum of supervision by the government.

The report asserted the government is assuming uncalculated obligations without any understanding of their ultimate cost, the lack of professional manpower to carry them out, or their adverse effect on the hospital system of the country.

BEST COWBOY:
No Film Star

The small fry could bellow and complain all they liked—the best cowboy was not Gene Autry or Roy Rogers.

Instead he is Gerald Roberts, Phoenix, Ariz., who was top cowboy—world's champion, to get technical—for 1948. The Rodeo Cowboys association announced Roberts was the best all-'round cowboy of the year, and they had the records to prove it.

ROBERTS won top honors by leading the 2,100 professional cowboys who were scored in the association's system for 575 rodeos in the U. S. and Canada.

The scoring system was based on one of the most impressive factors in any American competition —the dollar. One point was scored for each dollar won in competition, and Roberts ended the 1948 season with winnings of $21,866 in cash awards. There was no arguing with that sort of record.

Prodigal's Return

Jimmy Dykes, former third baseman of the Philadelphia A's and manager of the Chicago White Sox, gets welcome handshake from Connie Mack after Dykes signed up as coach of the Athletics.

WOMEN:
Fewer Home

Fewer American married women were staying at home. In a complete reversal of the war years, married women workers in the nation topped single women holding jobs.

A report by the federal census bureau showed that there were in the labor force those working and looking for work — about 8,300,000 [illegible] and 5,900,000 single

Operation 'Tactful'

Sociology was looking up. The Australian Legion of Ex-Servicemen and Women had taken up the task of helping young veterans and their wives with "in-law" troubles. They started a scheme to enable veterans forced by housing shortages to live with parents-in-law to exchange homes with others.

Spokesmen for the legion said many English marriages had been saved from disaster by a similar scheme operating in Britain. They found couples could live happier with strangers where they were paying guests.

ALL MUST PROVE STATUS

Army Checking Newcomers for Red Taint

The army is looking closely to the political integrity of its inductees and applicants for commissions. Army spokesmen have released an announcement that existing regulations now require all inductees and applicants for commissions to certify whether they have been members of subversive organizations. If they had been such members they are barred from service.

The affidavit requires enlistees or officer applicants to state whether they have membership in any organization advocating overthrow of the government.

Draftees also are required to sign such affidavits when they appear for induction

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

We Both Won This One

Blew my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice!" I hollers. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons?" That took the wind out of me.

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

Extern Jean Simmons visited our room on Wednesday.

The Carl Crissey family has come from Vanderbilt with a first grade boy and a kindergarten girl.

We are fixing a playhouse in our room.

Ervin Clark is the last one from our room to return after having chicken pox.

Our little girls are bringing new dolls to school since Christmas.

FIRST and SECOND Grades — Adeline Bowerman

The snow was just right last Friday for making an Eskimo snowhouse. Our boys and girls worked like beavers during the noon hour and at recess to build the walls. Now they wonder how the blocks can be laid to make a roof for the house.

For storytime we are enjoying the true story of "The Eskimo Twins" by Lucy Fitch Perkins. In spelling we are learning to spell several words pertaining to Eskimo life so we can write our own stories about their language. We count the dogs in a dog team by twos and have had several Eskimo story problems involving the combinations and column addition in numbers. We have composed several stories which we can read from charts. These include the Eskimo people, their homes, their food, their clothes, heat, light and weapons. Other stories will be composed and read pertaining to their animals, transportation, weather, games and hunting.

Tuesday afternoon Niles Hill told us of his experiences in Alaska. He showed us pictures of the Northland, then answered several questions we had. His story was very helpful and it was fun to get the information first hand. In language we composed and wrote a 'thank you' letter to Niles.

SECOND Grade — Agnes Johnston

After a nice long vacation of two weeks, we were glad to be back in school Monday.

Last Wednesday afternoon Bill Kamradt, a student in Mr. Downings speech class, read to us an interesting story about a kangaroo. We enjoyed the story very much.

Group two in numbers is learning to tell time.

We chose new room helpers last Friday.

Patty Porter has a new baby sister.

Mrs. Myers, Eleanor's mother, visited our room last Friday afternoon.

THIRD and FOURTH Grades — Marie Hughes

Barbara Warner and James Lundy have not returned to school since the holidays.

We have been rather interested in snow houses and snowmen this week.

The geography class just finished studying the Eskimo land.

Those who have had perfect attendance since the beginning of school in Sept. are Alva Noirot, Fredrick Johnson, Gerald Green, Gene Richards, Fred Steuer and Charles Kamradt.

FOURTH Grade — Miss Elsen

We were all glad to be back after a wonderful vacation. Everyone wanted to tell what they received for Christmas so we made an English period out of the talks. Santa certainly didn't miss East Jordan.

Our spelling failures have lessened and only five had to admit failure last Friday. They took another test on Monday and seem anxious to keep pace with the class.

Two of our reading groups have advanced to more difficult books and are enthusiastic about the new stories.

Last Friday we entertained Mrs. Galmore's class with a story hour. Everyone seems to work with renewed energy and we hope to accomplish much in these cold days of winter.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Galmore

Wednesday, Jan. 5th, we saw a movie about "The Twenty-six Old Characters." We learned how our alphabet came to be. —Joanne Bader

Our room learned a song of a skating pond. Bobby Dougherty drew a poster to go with the song. —Karen Bradshaw

We are making and bringing games for our room. Richard Bayliss got a movie camera for Christmas and is going to show a movie in Miss Elsen's room. — Sharon Lundy

The Blue Vase

In our reading book there is a beautiful picture called "The Blue Vase." It is a sunny picture. The flowers are orange, white and blue. It was painted by Paul Esanne who is one of the famous artists. He was French, was born in 1839 and died in 1906. — Sandra Boswell

FIFTH Grade — Elizabeth Dhaseleer

Many of us had exciting stories to tell of things we did during vacation.

The skating rink was fine the first of the week. We had five minute recesses in the morning so we could enjoy skating in the afternoon.

We have just begun the study of the states that make up the Northwest Territory. Michigan is in the group.

In science we have begun reading about the solar system. We have already found out many interesting facts.

FIRE-SAFE HOMES STOP MANY DEATHS

Home is the place where the majority of fire victims die every year --and nine out of ten fires don't have to happen. Is your home fire-safe?

A stitch in time could have prevented those nine fires states Olevia Meyer, extension home management specialist at Michigan State college. Chief causes of home fires are faulty chimneys, stoves and furnaces, careless smoking and use of matches, misusing gasoline and kerosene, and defective wiring. Miss Meyer recommends that you:

Check your chimney to make sure it is fire-safe. Be sure your stoves or furnace are large enough to heat the room or house without forcing. Overheated stoves or furnaces are fire hazards. Place a fire screen in front of the fireplace.

Don't be guilty of starting a fire with gasoline or kerosene and always warn the members of your family against the habit. Home dry cleaning is another dangerous business and should be done with caution.

Check electric cords, plugs, outlets and equipment before using to make sure they are not faulty. Broken plugs, outlets or electric cords with the insulation worn off are fire hazards. Don't run electric cords under rugs, or hang on hooks or nails. Be sure you have enough wall outlets in all rooms so this won's be necessary. Check the fuse box to make sure the fuse is not larger than 15 amperes and that some other object such as a penny is not being used instead of a fuse.

If you do these things the MSC Home economist knows you will be safe--not sorry.

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

FARMERS' WEEK

This is the last call for those that are interested in going to Farmers' Week at Michigan State College. The dates are Jan. 24 through 28th. Every farmer should plan to take some vacation with his wife and family at least once a year. No better time could be chosen than during the last week of this month for spending Farmers' Week at Michigan State College at East Lansing.

A very excellent set of programs has been arranged by each department. People who are interested in dairy can go to the dairy section. Those interested in crops can go to the farm crops meetings, and those interested in other departments may go to the respective programs. Copies of the programs are available at the County Extension Office — either drop in for your copy or send a postcard and a copy will be mailed to you.

ARTIFICAL BREEDERS

The Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association have just completed the first month of their second year business. A total of 40 services were given by the Inseminator Manager. One new member has joined the association, with five cows.

The next few months is generally the time when most of the cows are being bred. To get the best inheritance possible for your heifers, farmers should plan on using the best bulls obtainable. Some dairymen have very good bulls of their own, the majority however, are not able to obtain such high quality sires. For those who are looking for better inheritance the Artificial Breeding Association offers some very good bulls. If you are interested contact either Curtis Nicloy of Boyne City — Bud Best of Ellsworth — or Ed Rebman, County Agent at Boyne City.

DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

An opportunity for a young man to learn more about the dairy enterprise is available to someone in Charlevoix County. If this young man would like to be the tester for the Antrim-Charlevoix Dairy Herd Improvement Association he should contact the County Extension Office at Boyne City. A ten day course at Michigan State College is necessary to prepare the tester for this position. There will be a course given during Feb. and also one given during April. Interested applicants are urged to inquire at the County Extension Office at Boyne City.

RED DANE

The field trip that is being planned for the farmers interested in Red Dane has been changed. The date at the present time is Friday, Jan. 21st. Farmers who are interested in making this field trip which will include three Red Dane herds near Harrisville, should leave their name and telephone number at the County Extension Office.

Farmers with good dairy herds with high inheritance should think twice before changing to Red Dane. However if you would like to find out more about this breed, plan on attending this field trip. The local Artificial Breeders Association will supply the seman from the bull stud at Lansing.

County Agr'l Agent

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Lansing — Michigan's new bipartisan state government, led by its youthful new governor, G. Mennen Williams, is now in its first full week. The honeymoon is still on.

The governor's message to the legislature, delivered one week ago today, reflected Governor Williams' campaign pledges for the most part. He balanced urban interests of public housing, labor legislation and more liberal social security benefits with rural concern over better highways and uniform grading and packaging of farm products. His modest reference to need of team-work between the executive office and the legislature was characterized by the old-fashioned saying, "two heads are better than one."

While much of the governor's program will call for additional spending, there was recognition in this problem in the promise to submit a separate statement, later on, covering this "serious fiscal problem." In view of the voters' stand on continued diversion of state sales tax revenue, it appears a good bet that new taxes will be recommended as an alternative to otherwise inevitable deficit financing. At least, Governor Williams' thinking is not in the direction of economy through curtailment of public services.

"I should like to invite this legislature to develope a 'Michigan seal of quality' or some similar trade-mark which could be applied to the high quality farm products," said Governor Williams. Such a trade-mark would be defined carefully, "enforced rigidly by the Michigan Dept. of Agriculture" and it would be "advertised widely and enthusiastically."

By gaining consumer acceptance of known quality farm products from Michigan, state-financed advertising would enable Michigan growers, in the opinion of the governor, to compete favorably with food products of other states. And the Michigan food stake is not small, either. Governor Williams estimated the 1948 yield at 740 million dollars.

As to highway needs, Governor Williams reiterated a need for a "well-rounded' long range road rehabilitation and safety program." He backed up recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation which completed an 18-month engineering analysis last winter, entitled "Highway Needs in Michigan."

How would better roads be financed? The governor hedged on this question, stating that the legislature should "consider carefully the amount of additional highway funds necessary and the most equitable method of providing them." He said he would not approve any increase in taxes for highway purposes unless the taxes were part of a "complete" highway program which covered needed "reforms" and unless the taxes also were considered "along with the overall budget of the state."

Reflecting his primary interest in the welfare of urban industrial workers, the governor came out flatly for public-financed housing on a cooperative basis whereby local government, presumably municipalities, would work together with state and federal governments in providing adequate low-cost housing.

A separate message is to be submitted to the legislature later on, covering methods whereby such housing authority would be established and money made available to finance the housing units. That public housing, or government-financed homes, is state socialism is perhaps the biggest stumbling block to Governor Williams' proposal. However, President Truman has already advocated this on a national-scale, and has added, for good measure, far more socialization than Governor Williams has sponsored to date.

The public-financed homes would accommodate approximately 80,000 persons, whereas the governor estimated Detroit's housing needs to be 120,000 family units with Washtenaw county (rural) good for an additional 5,000 units.

"We are currently faced with the paradox of decreasing construction while population and demand for housing continue to grow," said Governor Williams. "Basically, this is caused by the fact that housing costs are far beyond the reach of those with the greatest needs, namely, the wage earner of moderate income with a wife and several small children."

Will the Republican majority in the state legislature go along with Governor Williams on this key measure, calling for more government participation in our economic life? On this issue, perhaps more than any other, Republican leaders will divide sharply. Governor Thomas E. Dewey, for example, is sponsoring a big public housing program in New York State, while also advocating disability insurance for industrial workers. The conservative wing of the party condems such tactics as "aping the New Deal" and belives the party should champion the cause of conservatism by holding the line for free enterprise.

As we have often pointed out, the record always speaks for itself.

And the Michigan record of bipartisan government is now in the making.

Herald In Error

ROAD COMMISSION DID NOT PROPOSE OPERATION OF FERRY

I have been requested by the Commission to ask your paper to correct the impression caused by your news article in the Boyne Citizen and Charlevoix County Herald of Jan. 6th and 7th respectively.

The second paragraph indicates that the Supervisors accepted a proposal of the Road Commission to operate the Ironton Ferry. This is completely in error inasmuch as the Road Commission accepted the proposal of the Board of Supervisors after the Ferry Committee had recommended that a resolution be passed by the Board of Supervisors covering the amount of toll to be charged for this service.

The Road Commission wishes to make their petition clear that the operation of the Ferry was requested by the Board of Supervisors after the body had been placed where rising costs with no added revenue needed extream measures. The costs of operation and maintenance of this ferry seemed too much to expend for services rendered to the public where other then citizen of our own county were benefited.

The Commission and the Supervisors are working in close harmony on the problem presented, with the belief that a substanial sum can be saved the taxpayers. The Supervisors believed that the Commission having an organization instituted for the purpose of maintaining the County Highways were in a better position to operate the ferry on a toll basis than their own group would be.

It is in the interest of co-operation with the Commission and the Board together with the citizens of Charlevoix County that this letter is written and with sincere hope that within the next year some satisfactory arrangement can be worked out to the general satisfaction of all.

I have been requested to ask you to either print this letter as a news item or insert it as paid advertising to clear the misunderstanding caused by your article.

Fish Shanty Time

The glisten and sparkle of snow covered ice signals the return of winter fishing clan to many of the state's more shallow lakes and streams.

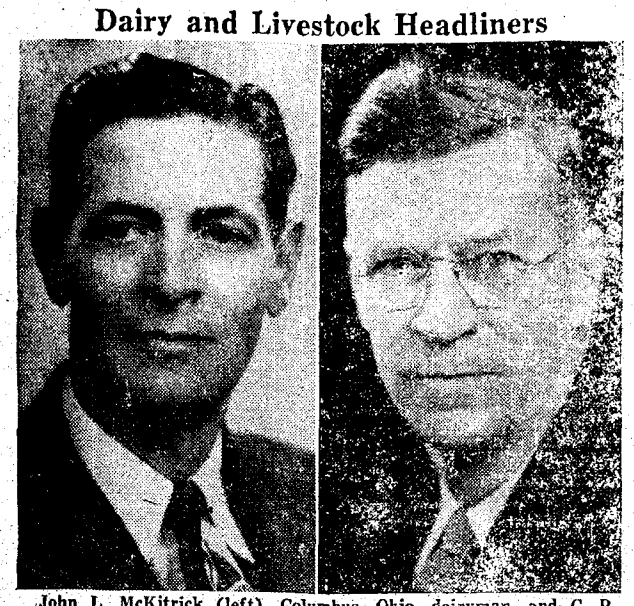

It also serves as a warning to winter anglers to thoroughly test ice crusts before setting up fish shanties. Those who venture out on the ice first should remember that other groups will follow.

Hook and line and spear are legal fishing tackle. A maximum of two lines or two single rods and lines utilizing any combination of hooks totaling not more than four is permissible. Snag or grab hooks cannot be used, nor can firearms or explosives.

Spearing also may be tried in specially designated trout lakes and trout stream or portions thereof during Jan. and Feb. Those portions of the AuSable, Boardman, Black, Presque Isle, Manistee, Pine and Chocolay rivers open to spearing can be checked with local conservation officers.

Other ice fishing information can be found in the fish law digest which accompanies the new fishing licenses now required.
